Acknowledgement of Country

Insignia Financial Ltd acknowledges the Traditional Owners of Country of the land on which we live and work, and recognises their continuing connection to lands, waters and communities. We pay our respect to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and their cultures, and to Elders past and present.

Together we recognise and value the ongoing contribution of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and communities to Australian life and how this enriches us.

We embrace the spirit of reconciliation, working towards equality of outcomes and ensuring an equal voice.

Message from our Chief Executive Officer

On behalf of Insignia Financial, I am pleased to present our 2023–2025 Innovate Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP).

Our RAP reaffirms our commitment to reconciliation. It provides an important foundation for our actions over the next few years, and ensures we continue to develop our existing relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, communities and organisations.

Insignia Financial has a long and proud history in Australia, and we are committed to ensuring that we have a diverse and inclusive workforce which fulfils the expectations of our employees, customers and shareholders, while building a sustainable future for our business.

Our Innovate RAP will help us to achieve these objectives by enhancing existing relationships and generating new opportunities under three key areas of focus:

This Innovate RAP will provide an important foundation for our actions over the next few years.

- Relationships – we believe the key to building successful and mutually beneficial relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples is to have ongoing engagement in the communities in which we work. We recognise the importance of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander customs and cultures, and are committed to being involved in events that are important to them.
- Respect – we will engage with our staff, encouraging and supporting them to build an understanding of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples’ cultures, history, achievements and challenges. Our program will further our commitment towards reconciliation by building knowledge, understanding and advocacy skills to achieve positive change.
- Opportunities – fairness and equality results from giving people equal and equitable opportunities. We will investigate and support employment opportunities within our organisation and ensure our current and future First Nation customers are empowered with their finances through our products and services.

We look forward to working with Reconciliation Australia and our partners to create the Australia we all want to live in, one where all Australians have the opportunity for a better financial future. I encourage all employees, clients, customers and suppliers to support us along this journey.

Scott Hartley
Chief Executive Officer
Insignia Financial Ltd

Message from Reconciliation Australia

Reconciliation Australia commends Insignia Financial on the formal endorsement of its inaugural Innovate Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP).

Commencing an Innovate RAP is a crucial and rewarding period in an organisation's reconciliation journey. It is a time to build strong foundations and relationships, ensuring sustainable, thoughtful, and impactful RAP outcomes into the future. Since 2006, RAPs have provided a framework for organisations to leverage their structures and diverse spheres of influence to support the national reconciliation movement.

This Innovate RAP is both an opportunity and an invitation for Insignia Financial to expand its understanding of its core strengths and deepen its relationship with its community, staff, and stakeholders. By investigating and understanding the integral role it plays across its sphere of influence, Insignia Financial will create dynamic reconciliation outcomes, supported by and aligned with its business objectives.

An Innovate RAP is the time to strengthen and develop the connections that form the lifeblood of all RAP commitments. The RAP program's framework of relationships, respect, and opportunities emphasises not only the importance of fostering consultation and collaboration with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and communities, but also empowering and enabling staff to contribute to this process, as well.

With over 2.3 million people now either working or studying in an organisation with a RAP, the program's potential for impact is greater than ever. Insignia Financial is part of a strong network of more than 1,100 corporate, government, and not-for-profit organisations that have taken goodwill and intention, and transformed it into action. Implementing an Innovate RAP signals Insignia Financial's readiness to develop and strengthen relationships, engage staff and stakeholders in reconciliation, and pilot innovative strategies to ensure effective outcomes. Getting these steps right will ensure the sustainability of future RAPs and reconciliation initiatives and provide meaningful impact toward Australia's reconciliation journey.

Congratulations Insignia Financial on your Innovate RAP and I look forward to following your ongoing reconciliation journey.

About our organisation

At Insignia Financial, we have been helping Australians secure their financial future for 175 years.

Today, Insignia Financial Ltd (Insignia Financial) is one of the largest financial services groups in Australia, an ASX 200 company and leading provider of financial advice, superannuation investment and portfolio administration services. In 2022, Insignia Financial completed the acquisition of MLC Wealth, bringing together two of Australia's longest-standing wealth management businesses to create one of Australia's leading wealth managers.

With more than $319.6* billion in funds under management and administration, the new Insignia Financial proudly serves some 1.5 million Australians.

We have offices in Melbourne, Sydney, Adelaide, Brisbane, Perth and Hobart. As part of our recent acquisitions and selling of our trustee business, we have identified a need to determine culturally appropriate ways to connect with our employees that identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people. We will work within this RAP to determine the most suitable approach with the support of our advisory representatives.

Our goal is to help more Australians become good with money. We use our scale and expertise to offer advice and financial solutions that are easy to access, engaging and affordable. This is how we invest in a future that's better for everyone.

Our organisational principles

At Insignia Financial, we have a culture that encourages passion and innovation. One that respects and embraces diversity, cares for others, communities and each other's wellbeing. Our inclusive culture is underpinned by five principles, which are at the heart of everything we do. These principles help us make better decisions and guide our day-to-day behaviour.

Be human

We treat those around us the way we'd like to be treated – openly, honestly and respectfully.

Deliver what matters

We make sure we understand what matters to every client and we make it happen.

Stronger together

Only by working together can we truly serve our clients.

Keep it simple

We remove complexity.

Do what's right,
not what's easy

We back ourselves to make the right call.
We speak up.

Our services

Creating financial wellbeing for all Australians

We have a substantial opportunity to improve the financial wellbeing of all Australians. Our broad range of wealth management products and services means that we have an unparalleled ability to provide solutions to help our clients achieve their financial goals. Caring about our people and our clients, and providing quality service and consistent performance are key to our success.

Financial advice

We believe in the value of financial advice and the importance of making advice more accessible, engaging and affordable. Our employed advice businesses, Bridges and Shadforth, provide financial advice options along the spectrum - from guidance and coaching to episodic and holistic advice, based on client needs.

Asset management

We offer access to a broad suite of investment capabilities across a range of multi-asset and single asset classes, designed to suit a wide range of investor needs and risk profiles.

Our investment management is driven by a highly skilled team of investment professionals, operating out of Australia, the USA and UK.

Superannuation

As one of the largest superannuation and pension providers in Australia, we offer a number of award-winning solutions used by many of Australia's largest employers and independent advisers.

Wrap platforms

We have built a strong and contemporary technology platform and remain committed to investing in technology and our services to support the changing needs of advisers and their clients.

Known as Gariwerd by local Aboriginal people, the Grampians region has been home to the Djab Wurrung and Jardwardjali people for 20,000 years and contains the densest concentration of rock art paintings and the largest assemblage of Aboriginal art motifs in Victoria.

Our brands

The Insignia Financial Group is made up of a number of leading brands that provide financial advice, superannuation, investment, and portfolio administration services.

MLC provides investments and superannuation products and services to corporate, institutional and retail customers. We offer choice and expertise with super solutions delivered through powerful platforms, retirement solutions and evolving investment options from some of the world's leading fund managers.

Established some 35 years ago, the MLC Asset Management business is responsible for pioneering the multi-manager investment approach in the Australian market, and now aims to provide a wide range of market-leading investment capabilities across multi-asset, equities, fixed income and alternatives.

Plum provides innovative super and pension solutions to employees of Australian organisations, with a range of Providing solutions and leading-edge technology to financial advisers, across all states and territories within Australia, each of our advice networks holds a unique position within the financial services sector. We have a range of options for our financial adviser network covering the salaried, self-employed and self-licensed channels with the overarching aim of improving the financial wellbeing of all Australians.

Our vision for reconciliation

Our vision for reconciliation is that we live in a community that accepts and acknowledges our shared history, and an Australia where Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples experience equal outcomes and opportunities to experience social, emotional and financial wellbeing.

We aspire to decrease the wellbeing inequity and are committed to engage with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in ways that are responsive and relevant to their needs, resulting in improved financial wellbeing outcomes for all. To achieve this, we recognise that building strong, respectful partnerships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and communities is a vital step towards reconciliation.

May we join together and build a future based on compassion, hope and reconciliation.

Our Innovate Reconciliation Action Plan

Insignia Financial recognises that we have a role to play in supporting Reconciliation Australia's vision for "a reconciled, just and equitable Australia".

We have undertaken the development of our Innovate Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) as a mechanism to work towards developing and strengthening relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, engaging staff and stakeholders in reconciliation. It is an important step towards our strategic ambition to create financial wellbeing for every Australian. As a financial service organisation, we are committed to improving financial wellbeing in all local communities. We recognise the importance of addressing the unique experiences of disadvantage within Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and are committed to reviewing how we can ensure our current and future First Nation clients are connected to their own money.

The implementation and delivery of a single RAP incorporating our diversified group will affirm and formalise our commitment to the reconciliation process, as well as Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and communities. This will be our first RAP as Insignia Financial, enabling the lessons learned from our heritage organisations to be shared and aligning our commitments, programs, initiatives and outcomes.

Our bespoke reconciliation design

As part of increasing our employees' experience and learning more about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures, we have introduced our reconciliation design, which is used across internal and external communications to demonstrate our commitment to taking meaningful action in advancing reconciliation.

The Insignia Financial reconciliation design was developed by Leigh Harris, a proud Kangoulu and Gunggari man based in Queensland. Drawing on his Aboriginal heritage, and weaving in our organisational purpose and principles, Leigh captured in his design our reconciliation journey. It depicts the key elements of building relationships, respect and opportunities, as well as the work of Insignia Financial's people in improving the lives of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples across Australia.

The design was launched on 4 July 2022 in an all-staff webinar by Leigh Harris, where he shared the symbolism of the various design elements and reminded all that "NAIDOC Week is an opportunity to discover more about First Nations Peoples, the importance of all belonging and the need to join hands to work together."

Such an awesome opportunity to have been a part of the creative process in the design for the Insignia Financial Reconciliation Action Plan. So great to have such a large corporate showing true commitment towards improved understanding and building and improving relationships with First Australians and who are committed to truth telling throughout the process.

Following your NAIDOC address I hope that staff, leadership and stakeholders all get closer to building and improving opportunities and relations with us mob. Was truly a great experience working on this RAP design.”

The meaning behind our Indigenous design

Element 1

The background elements of the design represent the many people and families that Insignia Financial touches through its work to create financial wellbeing for all Australians.

The element on the top of the hands represents healing waterways, symbolising the knowledge sharing and understanding shared across Insignia Financial and the communities it works with.

Element 2

Overlaying the healing waterway design element are elements which represent the way Insignia Financial works with different First Nations people throughout the Country.

Embedded in the design are patterns which represent the diversity of both Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

Element 5

The five larger Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultural motifs symbolise Insignia Financial's values, which help its people make better decisions and guide day-to-day behaviours.

Combined reconciliation design

The combined design depicts the key elements of building relationships, respect and opportunities, as well as the ongoing work of Insignia Financial's people in improving the lives of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples across Australia.

Element 3

Surrounding the primary design elements are symbols of First Nations individuals and families, representing the communities that Insignia Financial works with. The star elements represent the birthing of a brighter future for First Nations people through mutual understanding and guidance.

On the outer of the primary design are simple elements which represent the knowledge and healing of country.

Element 4

The motifs dotted along the healing waterways represent the communities and Traditional Owner groups that Insignia Financial works with throughout the country.

Acknowledgment motif

Sharing the knowledge and understanding of First Nations People with Insignia Financial's employees and stakeholders.

A hands-up approach to building opportunities for First Nations Peoples, communities and organisations.

Working with First Nations Peoples, communities and organisations throughout the Country and being inclusive about decision making for First Nations matters.

Larger Spirit figures represent First Nations People involved in decision making with Insignia Financial and its communities.

Small Spirit figures represent young people and future generations.

Our Reconciliation Action Plan

This RAP has been developed in consultation with our Board, CEO, RAP Steering Committee (RAPSC), RAP Working Group (RAPWG), and our team members across the group who believe in making sustainable change.

The development of our Innovate RAP reaffirms our commitment to the reconciliation process through respect of culture and heritage, maintaining positive community relationships, and providing meaningful employment opportunities.

Insignia Financial has the responsibility for overseeing the development of this RAP and liaising with Reconciliation Australia. Insignia Financial and its businesses are responsible for implementing the actions under the governance of the Insignia Financial RAPSC.

On behalf of the Insignia Financial Directors, our Chief Financial Officer is our RAP Champion who oversees both the RAPSC and RAPWG. Our working group members bring together several years' experience working towards reconciliation from involvement with the RAP program within our organisation and in prior roles. When developing our Innovate RAP, our working group reflected on key considerations for organisations that are starting their journey. These included:

- It is simply not enough to have a RAP. Each individual within the organisation must understand the importance and be proud advocates of the RAP.
- A RAP cannot rely on one single person only. It takes a genuine team spirit approach to achieve reconciliation.
- Connecting with other RAP organisations is an opportunity to share experiences and learn best practice.
- A RAP is an ongoing process that needs to be kept alive and communicated broadly and regularly.
- Community partnerships are at the heart of the RAP. They provide an opportunity to connect, support and learn what reconciliation means, especially for the remote communities we work with.
- It is important to remain committed to turning good intentions into real outcomes.

Our Indigenous Ambassador – Troy Cook, Traditional Owner

Troy is our RAP Ambassador and will be actively involved in the delivery of our aims and objectives. He is passionate about building the capacity of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and will help us to build the capacity for our clients. Troy will be part of a team playing a vital role to help the RAP Working Group deliver.

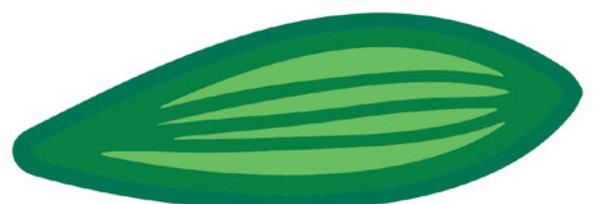

Our RAP Steering Committee

We recognise the importance of ensuring that ownership of RAP targets is shared by, and embedded into, the work practices of all our employees. Our Chief Financial Officer chairs our RAP Steering Committee. This groups meets a minimum three to four times a year and consists of independent external Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander leaders and internal leaders who guide our RAP progress and monitor implementation into the business.

To support the steering committee and working group we are engaging IPS Management Consultants (IPS), a certified majority Indigenous-owned company providing innovative and focused consulting services to meet organisational capability. IPS have extensive experience in reviewing company policies and procedures, cultural competency / immersion programs, and diversity leadership.

Members of the RAP Steering Committee are:

- Chief Financial Officer (RAP Executive Champion and Chair)
- Head of Corporate Relations & Reputation (Secretary)
- Chief People Officer
- General Manager Organisational Development
- General Manager Corporate Affairs & Reputation
- General Manager Workplace Solutions
- Head of ESG

Our RAP Working Group

The RAP Working Group brings together teams responsible for delivering the RAP to oversee effective and timely implementation. The RAPWG are an important component of the governance arrangements for our RAP. This group is led by Insignia Financial's Head of Reconciliation & Community Partnerships and meets a minimum of six times a year. The group has a vast representation from department leaders with the capability to drive agreed actions and to ensure buy-in from our broader team.

We recognise the need to determine culturally appropriate ways to connect with our employees who identify as Aboriginal and/ or Torres Strait Islander people and seek their engagement with and participation in our RAP Working Group. Within this RAP we will work with our Indigenous Ambassador, Troy Cook, our community partners and our people to determine the most suitable approach and ensure participation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees in our RAP Working Group.

The workstream leaders have the RAP as part of their annual KPIs.

Our commitment to the community

We recognise the value of sharing our knowledge and continually exploring ways of collaborating with and learning from national and local community partners.

For example, our philanthropic foundation, the IOOF Foundation, has long term partnerships with several Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander-led organisations. With funding from the IOOF Foundation, we have focussed on programs that support the youth in remote and regional Australia to keep them engaged in their education. To date we have committed over $500,000 in funding and are looking for more opportunities to support Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander-led programs. Following are examples of some of our partnerships and programs.

Girls from Oz (G-oz)

G-oz provides high-quality performing arts education to engage girls and young women in remote and regional Australia.

The vision is to foster a sense of belonging and connectedness between participants and their community, giving students the self-assurance to speak and perform in front of their peers and families and to feel proud of their achievements as empowered, resilient and confident young women. Annually, the girls travel from rural Australia to Sydney where they have the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to perform at the Sydney Opera House with the Australian Girls Choir.

Lockhart River Engagement Program

In the fifth year of our partnership with g-oz, we committed to covering the program cost for a further two years of performing arts program delivery in Lockhart River, in remote Far North Queensland. This includes the direct costs of eight week-long visits to the Lockhart River community, along with the travel and other expenses incurred during the week-long travel program where selected Lockhart River students visit an Australian capital city.

Red Dust

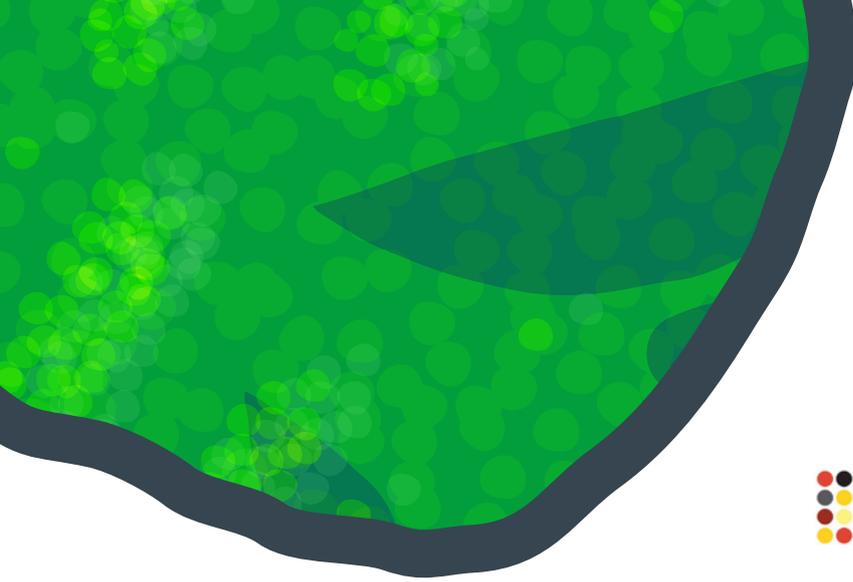

Red Dust encourages Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander youth to learn more about health and make healthy lifestyle choices through the mentoring and influence of positive role models in sport, art, music and dance.

Red Dust believes that good health is the key to a bright future – and that health outcomes can only be made possible through a two-way exchange with communities. Working together to enrich lives, improve health and strengthen the future of Indigenous youth and families, Red Dust's unique approach to achieving health outcomes is working. The team at Red Dust partner with communities to best target specific local needs – as this is not a one size fits all approach. Through improving knowledge and skills of Indigenous youth, they hope to inspire them to live a healthy lifestyle through the influence of positive role models.

Voices of First Nations communities

Our Foundation supports Red Dust to strengthen existing remote community partnerships and build community resilience. The projects are designed to provide opportunities for remote Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander youth to:

- increase interest in attending school
- gain exposure to new experiences
- develop interests in learning new skills
- connect with their culture.

Aboriginal Literacy Foundation

The Aboriginal Literacy Foundation believes that positive and practical change to closing the gap between Indigenous and non-Indigenous young people starts with literacy and numeracy. Our vision is for a future where all Indigenous children can pursue quality education, reach their full potential and contribute to their community and the country.

We are proud to support the development of their Job Ready program. The key to success of this program is the provision of both literacy studies and practical advice through the involvement of First Nations mentors. Literacy tutoring centres on language relating to work, and in particular that which is required under the new Occupational Health and Safety Act.

Another important aspect of the Job Ready program is the writing of resumes, and of course job applications. Through this program, many young First Nations Australians will have the opportunity for employment to help contribute towards improved lifetime outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities.

Opportunities

Fairness and equality results from giving people equal and equitable opportunities. We are committed to continuing and expanding our support for and building the capacity of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples within our spheres of influence.

We aim to achieve a workplace culture that values diverse skills and perspectives for positions across the entire organisation for both current and prospective employees and have developed our Diversity & Inclusion Action Plan. The following measures aim to meet these stated goals in respect of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.
